

THE WOOL CLIP

For all things Woollen

3rd February 2023

Dear All

The first signs of Spring are appearing in Caldbeck - snowdrops ahead of anything else (including Linda's) - and we've lots of news as the February days draw out.

We've been busy, particularly Julia and her team, emptying, cleaning, decorating, reorganising and, as this email goes out, re-stocking the Caldbeck shop.

Each winter closing is a good chance for us to juggle stock around and put new items in pride of place and this year has been no exception. Each member of the co-operative now has a new space to show off their skills and we hope you'll enjoy finding out more about their new work.

The shop re-opens on Saturday 11th February and we'll then be open Tuesday to Sunday every week from 11am to 4pm (plus the Bank Holiday Mondays but it's worth checking our website to confirm this as each one approaches).

Our other big news is the creation of an "Eden outpost" in the market town of Appleby-in-Westmorland. Wool Clip members, Jan and Jane have run workshops at The Appleby Hub in the past and we've just created a Wool Clip area in the craft shop there. It's a busy spot with a thriving cafe, offices, second hand books and the craft shop so, if you're ever in or around Appleby, it's well worth dropping in.

For us, it will be interesting to see if we can reach a new market, raise some commission for the CIC that runs The Appleby Hub and, ideally, tempt new customers across to Caldbeck too!

So that's our shop news for now - lambing news dominates for some of us in the weeks ahead and it's an exciting time of year.

We always look forward to meeting other wool lovers so please call in to the main Caldbeck shop and introduce yourselves. And, if you can't make it to Caldbeck, our online shop continues to feature new stock too.

Best wishes,

The Wool Clip
